No. CV-13-01215-PHX-ROS (DKD)

ORDER

15 Plaintiff, formerly an inmate at the Maricopa County Fourth Avenue Jail, filed a pro se 16 Prisoner Civil Rights Complaint pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 on June 18, 2013(Doc. 1). The 17 Court issued a Notice of Assignment on that date, a copy of which was mailed to Plaintiff, in 18 which he was warned that failure to file a Notice of Change of Address could result in the case
19 being dismissed (Doc. 4). The Court issued an order for payment of the inmate filing fee on 20 August 22, 2013 and dismissed the Complaint for failure to state a claim (Doc. 5, 6). Plaintiff
21 filed an Amended Complaint on September 20, 2013 (Doc. 8). The Court ordered defendant
22 to answer the Amended Complaint on November 12, 2013 (Doc. 11). On November 20, 2013, 23 a copy of the Court's November 12 Order mailed to Plaintiff at his last known address were 24 returned with an indication that Plaintiff was no longer in custody (Doc. 12). Plaintiff has not 25 filed a change of address.

26 Plaintiff has the general duty to prosecute this case. Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Co. v.
27 Pioche Mines Consolidated, Inc., 587 F.2d 27, 29 (9th Cir. 1978). In this regard, it is the duty
28 of a plaintiff who has filed a pro se action to keep the Court apprised of his or her current

1 address and to comply with the Court's orders in a timely fashion. This Court does not have an 2 affirmative obligation to locate Plaintiff. "A party, not the district court, bears the burden of 3 keeping the court apprised of any changes in his mailing address." Carey v. King, 856 F.2d
4 1439, 1441 (9th Cir. 1988). Plaintiff's failure to keep the Court informed of his new address 5 constitutes failure to prosecute.

6 Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides that "[f]or failure of the 7 plaintiff to prosecute or to comply with these rules or any order of court, a defendant may move 8 for dismissal of an action." In Link v. Wabash Railroad Co., 370 U.S. 626, 629-31 (1962), the 9 Supreme Court recognized that a federal district court has the inherent power to dismiss a case
10 sua sponte for failure to prosecute, even though the language of Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules
11 of Civil Procedure appears to require a motion from a party. Moreover, in appropriate 12 circumstances, the Court may dismiss a complaint for failure to prosecute even without notice
13 or hearing. Id. at 633.

14 In determining whether Plaintiff's failure to prosecute warrants dismissal of the case, the 15 Court must weigh the following five factors: "(1) the public's interest in expeditious resolution 16 of litigation; (2) the court's need to manage its docket; (3) the risk of prejudice to the 17 defendants; (4) the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits; and (5) the 18 availability of less drastic sanctions." Carey, 856 F.2d at 1440 (quoting Henderson v. Duncan, 19 779 F.2d 1421, 1423 (9th Cir. 1986)). "The first two of these factors favor the imposition of 20 sanctions in most cases, while the fourth factor cuts against a default or dismissal sanction.
21 Thus the key factors are prejudice and availability of lesser sanctions." Wanderer v. Johnson, 22 910 F.2d 652, 656 (9th Cir. 1990).

23 Here, the first, second, and third factors favor dismissal of this case. Plaintiff's failure
24 to keep the Court informed of his address prevents the case from proceeding in the foreseeable 25 future. The fourth factor, as always, weighs against dismissal. The fifth factor requires the 26 Court to consider whether a less drastic alternative is available. Without Plaintiff's current 27 address, however, certain alternatives are bound to be futile. Here, as in Carey, "[a]n order to 28

1 show cause why dismissal is not warranted or an order imposing sanctions would only find itself
2 taking a round trip tour through the United States mail." 856 F.2d at 1441.

3 The Court finds that only one less drastic sanction is realistically available. Rule 41(b)
4 provides that a dismissal for failure to prosecute operates as an adjudication upon the merits
5 "[u]nless the court in its order for dismissal otherwise specifies." In the instant case, the Court
6 finds that a dismissal with prejudice would be unnecessarily harsh. The Complaint and this 7 action will therefore be dismissed without prejudice pursuant to Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules
8 of Civil Procedure.

9 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED pursuant to Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil 10 Procedure, this action is dismissed without prejudice and the Clerk of the Court shall enter 11 judgment accordingly.

12 DATED this 22nd day of November, 2013.
